A large maority of our citizens are and have been opposed to quarantining against Memphis, appeople of Memphis, socially and in a business way, as being near and dear to us. A peti-tion directed to the board of mayor and aldermen, signed by a large number of citizens, was laid before that body, stating that, in view of the fact that we never had yellowfever in this section, although exposed to it in every possible manner, and apprehending no danger, they respectfully recommended that the board should raise the quarantine, and, instead of keeping refugees from stop-

Acting on petition the board met, and feeling a delicacy in taking the responsibility upon themselves, decided by a unanimous vote to let the people decide the matter.
